LIVING IN MUMBAI

Often referred to as the “Gateway of India,” Mumbai is characterized by colour, energy and life. A lively place, where people from various cultures, religions and economic backgrounds carve a path for themselves to create “the city of dreams.” Both gritty and glamorous, Mumbai embodies the personality of current day India.

From the hip and trendy cocktail bars to hawker stalls stocked with patties, puris, kebabs and lassis, there is something for everyone. Living in Mumbai is an experience that will stay with you forever. Living here offers great potential for savings. One can have a comfortable lifestyle at USD 1,200 per month, if single and roughly USD 1,500 per month, if living with a partner.

Mumbai is a coastal city with moderate temperatures through the year. The spring and summer months can get hot with temperatures reaching 104°F (40°C) on occasional days. The winter months are considerably more comfortable with average daytime temperatures reaching 74°F (23°C) to 86°F (30°C). July to September are months that see a lot of rain bringing the temperatures down.

TESTIMONIALS

Mumbai is safe, and I am quite relieved to find this out as I was worried about security being a single mother of one. We both fit in well and Abba has friends... our family of 2 has not received any sort of criticism and that is a great relief! We have had an easy life here.

"I feel truly privileged to be part of the DAIS community as a College Counsellor. One of the most rewarding aspects of my work at DAIS is the collaboration with students who continually inspire me with their ambition, curiosity, and resilience. Their passion drives me to push my boundaries and grow as a counsellor. It is incredibly fulfilling to be part of their journey as they grow in confidence, take ownership of their goals, and carve out their own place in the world. I feel incredibly fortunate to continue learning alongside them."

Eniko Kiss, College Counsellor, Hungary

After spending five years at DAIS, I briefly left, but the deep connection I had with the school and its community drew me back. There is something truly special about DAIS that goes beyond academics: The students are not just learners; they are a source of inspiration with their passion, curiosity, and drive to make a difference. The sense of community among staff is deeply collaborative, fostering an environment where you are constantly growing and learning from one another. DAIS offers a breadth of experiences that go far beyond the classroom, shaping not only the minds but also the hearts of the students. Living and teaching here has allowed me to immerse myself in the beauty and depth of Indian culture, a journey that has profoundly shaped who I am. Returning to DAIS was not just a professional decision; it was a choice to continue a journey of growth and purpose, surrounded by remarkable students and colleagues who make this place feel like home.

I've absolutely loved my time working at NMAJS. The vibrant energy of the city combined with the supportive school community has made my experience truly special. The students are eager to learn, and it's been so fulfilling to witness their growth and curiosity. The staff is incredibly supportive, always ready to help each other. Mumbai itself is a city full of culture and life, and I'm constantly inspired by its diversity and spirit. The school provides a nurturing environment for both students and teachers, and I feel encouraged to try new things in the classroom and grow professionally.

Zhalya Veliyeva, Assistant Teacher, UKG, Ukraine

Living in Mumbai and working at DAIS has been an incredible experience so far. The students at DAIS are so engaged and thoughtful, and the other teachers are always supportive. Mumbai, and India as a whole, is such a vibrant place to live with endless new foods to try, areas to explore, and history to learn more about. I've really enjoyed my time in India so far, and would definitely recommend it to teachers looking for an adventurous place to live!

Living in India's cultural and economic hub enables one to experience the vibrant, festive and chaotic culture that Mumbaikers cherish and as a member of the DAIS school community you'd be in the midst of it all. Here one can collaborate with other dynamic professionals and engage with well-rounded students committed to excel in academics, the arts and athletics. Educators who seek to challenge themselves and to grow in their craft as well as to explore the many unique and easily accessible destinations throughout India and Asia will enjoy the opportunities DAIS offers.
